Yesterday Today

Tomorrow

In the year 1866, when President Thomas Ries Vickroy began teaching classes in the old Annville Aeademy, he also wound the springs of a clock, that clock whose dial is the symbol of the passing seene at Lebanon Valley College.

One year later the college was chartered ly the state of Pemnsylvania under its present name, Lebanon Valley College, and construction was begun on its first building. A new institution of higher learning was nshered into the world, but as is the ease with all infants, it had to be nurtured and properly cared for.

To this end. there came to Lebanon Valley College a group of devoted professors and clucators who gave the school a firm foothold in the direction of its avowed interest-teaching young men and young women to become better Christians and better citizens.

Comutless revolutions of the hands and a few decades later fouml the face of the clock changed ceen more. Many new buildings such as Engle Hall. Carnegie Library, North Hall and Men's Dorm now dotted the campus.

Along with the rise of its physical plant, the administration constantly tried to secure the best available professors for its faculty. This policy greatly enhanced the quality of education that was being afforded to the students. It is a poliey for which we, as students might well be grateful.

Today we are involved in another great face lifting of the clock symbolizing the growth of our college. The echo of carpenters' hammers, concrete mixers, and pnemmatic drills from the walls of the new Women's Dormitory were lost in the din of the new library rising from the dust.
lt appears that the time piece shows no signs of stopping or even slowing down. Through the years, as the school grows in both academic and physical stature, we will come to look with pride at the ever-changing face of that symbol, the clock that represents all that Lebanon Valley College is, was, or ever will be.

ADMINISTRATION
"And panting time toiled after him in vain."

FREDERIC K. MILLER
President of Lebanon Valley College

MISS MARY E. GILLESPIE

In 1930 there was installed at Lebanon Valley College a new chairman of the Department of Music, Miss Mary Gillespie. She came to L.V.C. with a fine record as sehool music supervisor in Scottshurg. Indiana. and Braddock, Pennsylvania, and as head of the music department of the University of Delaware.

Since then Miss Gillespic has served as our Dean of Women from 1937 to 1948. The degree of Doctor of Music was awarded to her by Lebanon Valley College in 1954. This was the first honorary degrec granted by the college to onc of its own faculty members in more than a decade. But more important than these is the influcnce Miss Gillespie has had upon innmmerable students. She has imbued them with her love of people, especially children, and has inspired them ly her enthusiasm for teaching.

Although Miss Giilespie retired from her duties as chairman of the Music Department this year she will remain on our faculty just as she will always remain in the hearts of the students.

Symphony Orchestra

There is a time for eoncert and under the

THE MAETTRO. direction of Mr. Lanese the symphony orchestra present- two each year. The first of these was on December 6 when the proqram inctuded Joan Conway playiny Mozart: Piano Concerto So. 20 in 1 ) Minor. The epringe coneert fratured Robert Mann. firet violinit of the Jtillliard String Quartet. playing Beethosen: Jiolin Concerto. Also performed during the ear were symphonies by Hozart and Wendelsohn and Ocerture for Orchestra ly Mr. Lanese.

Chorus

THREE FIFTYFIVE

Anytime is a good time to sing but one of the best is with the chorus. At the begiming of the year Faure's Requiem was studied and in December the Christmas Oratorio by Saint-Sacns was performed with student soloists. In the Spring Music Festival the whole choms presented Bach's cantata Hold In Affection Jesus Christ while the men sang Thompsons' The Testament of Freedom and the women performed Credo, Canzoni, and Fugue by Karg-Elert.

Of course there has to be a tinie for the woodwinds to shine and so they did on May 8. 1956. when in-tiad of the w-wal sprine concert by the eymphons ordectra. there was presented A Program of Matic for Solo Woodwind and Symplony Wrhe. tra. All the coloist- wrere -tudent- of Frank Stachow. profesor of theory and woolwind. They were llarold Vorizel. who phayed the Rhapsolic for Clarinet and Orchestra ley Delurey. Louise loeper. who presented Kennan': Vizht Soliloquy for Flute and Strings. Patricia Lutz. who performed the Concerto in One Vorement for E flat Alto Saxophone and Strings ley Glazonov. Thomas Silliman whose solo were Cimarora:- Concerto for Oboe and Strings and The lfinter's Past ly Barlow. Renato Perez. who performed Mozart's Concerto for Bassoon. and Dorothy Graham. who played the Poome for Fluti, and Orchestra by Griffes. This was the first time the conservatory attempted a proyram of this type.

When this group meets it is time to rosin bows. Although it plays motly for the enjorment and experience of the members the ensemble perfermel in several recitals thronghont the year. The major worked studied was the String Quintet in $C$ (with Two Celli) by Schubert.

Woodwind Ensemble

Tune-up time is an important part of every rehearsal and performanee, and these two ensembles perform probably more often than any other ones in the conservatory. The woodwind quintet appeared on television and both groups played in many recitals and for other oceasions on and off eampus. During the first senester vacation the ensembles accompanied Mr. Stachow to Everett where they performed for the Central Western District Band Direetors in a woodwind demonstration.

It is the purpose of the Resident Women's Student Government Assoeiation, nicknamed "Jiggerboard," to govern the conduct of all women living in the dormitorics and resident women living in town. Jiggerlooard helps these women to realize their responsibility in upholding the rules and standards of the college. This year the thirteen members served conseientionsly under the leadership of President JoAnne Grove.

Although one of the smallest organizations on campus, the Men's Senate, governing body for male resident students, is indispensable. This was especially true during the past college year, as the Senate was under direct student supervision for the first time. The auccess of this experiment in student govermment is a milestone in the history of resident life at Lebanon Valley.

Clio's membership has been steadily increasing in the last several years and the spirit of co-operation hetween Clio and her brother organization Philo has brought them to a much closer unity.With the opening of the Mary Capp Green Residence Hall Clio was given a permanent club room.

Beginning the year's activities with Rush Week. Chio sponsored a tea and fashion show. In December the members enjoyed a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Ruth Bender, Clios advisor. The annual trip to the Lebanon Connty Old People: Home was greeted with much enthisiasm.

Also significant among the society's activities were the Clio-Philo play and dinner dance in the spring.

The Knights, now in their seventh year of existence, are simultancously one of the most constructive and perhaps the most secretive social orqanization on the campus. Noted for the spirit of coopration, good will, and fellowship which permeates the social nature of the wroup, the Knights engage in many social ae-tivities. In addition to their intramural sports program, ineluding volleyball, basketball, and softball, and the presenting of an aeademic and an athletie award to two worthy students, the Knights held an annmal dinner-dance, as a eulmination of their activities.

The Lebanon Valley College football team posted a record of one win and seven losses during the 1956 season under the tutelage of Coach Ellis R. HeCracken. The whole L.V. football picture fannot be pereeived at one glance. though, as the Dutchmen fought a few valiant battles in vain and were hampered l, injuries through a strong sehedule which allowed little breathing room.

Wilkes College offered little resistance to the well-balanced Lebanon Valley attack on the night of September 29. as the Dutchmen won their first game in the ammal Bolowna Bowl by a 39.6 count. The victory was largely due to fine teamwork hetween seasoned reterans and worthy neweomers. Among the former were co-captains Ross Plasterer and Glen Thomas, Bobly Lonsenecker. Jim Wolfe. Tom Kunkle, Joe Toy, Joe Stauffer. Nello Lavorini. Panl DiPangrazio. Frank Giovinazzo. Barry Barnhart, and Neil Aharrah. Among the fre-limen and transfer students rendering commendable service were Diek Smith. Ken Longenceker. Hal Donely, Karl Wesolocki. Irv LeGay. Don Sydlik. and Dom Garda who won the Bologna Bowl award for playing an outstanding game.

Lyeoming downed the Valley in the following game ly a 19.0 score be completely dominating the game and stalling the locals' best efforts in the eluteh.

Lyeoming scored three times in the first half and Lebanon Valley stiffened in the second half to play the invaders to a standstill.

Muhlenberg emerged from a 7.7 tie at halftime to defeat the Dutchmen in the fourth quarter on an intereepted lateral pass which went for a touchdown. It was still a moral vietory for the Valley as Muhlenberg had entered the game heavy favorites.

Moravian was next to add Lebanon Valley to its vietory list as the Greyhounds took ad. vantage of three costly fumbles and procpeded to seore at will to win on their own fieh. 33-2.

Again at St. Vineent- in Leechbury, the Dutchmen suffered from a liad fir-t half as the Bearcats struck paydirt twice in the fir-t half. only to have the Valley hold the re-t of the game. Final srore. 13-1).

Albright and Lehanon Valley were pirked as nearly equal teams. neither porting an impressive record. The Lions, playing on their own turf. quickly made a rout of the game ontseoring the Valley 3-1. Final seore. 20-6.

On the combination Homeroming and Parent's Day. the Dutchmen eleven qave the grads and folks alsolutely mothing to eheer about as they were completely overrun ly a lige and strong Drexel team. 32-12. lnjuries were very prevalent throughout the season and partienlarly awainst the Drawons as only four of the first 13 Valley phayers to enter the contest were physically able to fimish.

To elose the season the Dutrhmen gave Penn Military College a run for their mones. losing 40-25. after the "first half jins" had eost them the marginal fifteen points.

This was the last game for co-eaptains Ross Plasterer and Glen Thomas and the outstanding quarterback Dominie Garda who received recognition on the Small Colleqe All-American Foothall Team for his play while in the Blne-and-White of Lebanon Valley.

at Lebanon Valley

Lebanon Valley's unpredictable Flying Dutchmen, despite the play of four year men Bob Nelson, Don Reinhard, and Captain Dick Shover, elosed out its first losing season in six years but, in the course of their 21 game season, battled evenly with some of the top teams in the area.

After a preliminary 79.55 win over the L.V.C. alumni, the Valley's regular season got underway with a thrilling 78-76 win over Scranton University in overtime. Dick Shover with 19 and Don Grider with 17 led the Dutehmen to their 42nd straight home win. A small but agqressive Rider outfit handed L.V.C. its first loss 89.70 despite the 23 points of Bob Nelson.

Lelanon Valley then extended their record to 4 -l with pre-Christmas wins over Millersville, $57-55$, on Nelson"s last second basket: PMC, $79-67$ with Shover pouring in 26 points and Albright in another thrilling home win, 74-68.

The first game after the holidays saw Moravian College take a painfully easy 81-61 victory, bringing to an end Lebanon Valley's fabulous 43 game home winning streak. The Dutchmen then traveled to Lancaster where they absorbed their second straight pounding 82.64 by Franklin and Marshall after leading at the half $42 \cdot 41$.

Elizabethtown built up an early lead and then fonght off an L.V.C. rally to win $57-50$ and hand the Valley its fourth loss against four wins.

Following an easy 67.56 win over Dickinson the Dutchmen suffered three more losses to Temple, 70-59: West Chester, 73-65; and Drexel by a close 77.74 score. Despite the sethacks, Dick Shover tallied a total of 79 points in the three games and freshman Barry Skaler accounted for 45 against the Philadelphia teams.

The Dutchmen broke their losing streak with an impressive 79-74 win over Wilkes, led by Shover's 30 points, but lost to E-town 79-60 as Skaler canned 21. L.V.C. defeated Dickinson for the second time 73-66 and then threw a seare into Moravian before bowing 68-60.

After a $79-64$ loss to Albright, the Valley won their seventh game over Susquehanna by a $75-65$ seore with Shover hitting for 30 . F. & M. and a top-rated Muhlenberg outfit were hard pressed to defeat a stubborn Valley five 56.53 and 77.70 respectively as the season neared its end.
L.V.C.'s final game was an evenly fought battle which Fairleigh-Dickinson won in overtime, $74 \cdot 73$, bringing the Valley's season $\log$ to eight wins and thirteen losses. Dick Shover elosed out a brilliant season with 29 points followed by Bob Nelson with 26.

Findamentally re-ponille for the team: sucrese was encaptain and piteher Bill Wenrich who finished the season with a remarkalile pitching record of seven wins to his credit. Bill did not suffer a defeat throughont the entire season.

Highlights of the season included victories over F. & VI.. Villersvile. Ceftymurg. Scranton and Crsims. The Valley twiee defeated Etown and Drevel.

Bill Shanlor and Dich Shower led the offensive attack throughout the season along with Glen Thomas. Ros Planterer and Larry Benneteh who also acromed for much of L.V.C.: hitting power. Joc Stanfer. Peto NeErov and Tom Reinhart held down the tough defensive positions. The pitehing chores wer diviled among Wenrich. Bol, Nelson and Glem Thomas.

The outtanding performance of the year was Bill Wemrich:s mo-hitter on the home diamond aqainst Getty-hurge batelall nine. The Valley won the game as Bill Shadler collected loth R.B.l.s in the 2 -0 victory. This no-hitter was the first in baseball history here at L.V.C.

The Lebanon Valley College track team of 1956 experienced a winless season. The Flying Dutchmen competing in the track and field sport for only the second time as a team, was limited in its success because of the inexperience with which our squad had to. contend. Although our record was far from impressive we feel that much was learned during this season and the returning veterans feel quite confident that the coming season will reveal a more impressive record. The famous sportswriter Grantland Rice once said:
"When the One Great Scorer comes to mark upon your name; he marks not that you won or losk but how you played the game."
Throughout the season several of our boys displayed fine track and field ability. Aubrey Kershner was a constant point getter in the 100 yard dash and the high hurdles. Engene Pietreniac and Dale Shaeffer consistently won many honors in the weight divisions. In the distance events Lloyd Smith made himself known by securing many first place credits for L.V.C.

Lebanon Valley competed in six dual meets and one triangular meet.

The $1956-57$ squad finished the season with a record of three ties and one loss. The team's fighting spirit was encouraged by the tri-eaptains: Dot Book, Arlene Reynolds, and Jo Young. 'To their dismay, the scason ended with two rain-ont cancellations. A total of fonr proints was seored in the four games played. Marion Brooks and Jo Young shared honors with two groals each; Sally Lynch also rceeived one of Xiss Bowman"s "psychological safety-pins" for her terrifie job as goalie.

Congratulations are certainly in order to Miss Bowman, the varsity hockey team, and the managers for so commendable a season.

Minor injuries could not dampen the enthusiasm of the Girls' Basketball Team. The excellent spirit of these "Flying Dutchgirls" reached a high point this year. The team culminated the season with a commendable record of five wins and two losses. All Valleyites are proud of the undefeated record on the home floor.

Following the fine example of Captain Jeanne Winter and under the eapable coaching of Miss Bowman, the girls have proved to be a challenge to any opponent. The starting line-up consisted of: Donna Hill, Sally Lynch, and Ruth Howell at forward with Arlene Reynolds, Jeanne Winter. and Peggy Barbour in the guard positions. The fireball freshman, Sally Lynch was high scorer, averaging 18.4 points per game. In the runner-up position was Donna Hill, another freshman, with a 16.1 point average. Many outstanding underelassmen promise continued suceess.

A word of appreciation is also in order to the girls behind the scenes-the managers: Dot Book, Ruth Shectz, and Carol Ott.

W.A.A.

"A girl for every sport, and a-sport for every girl." With this motto, the Women's Athletic Association under the able leadership of President Jeame Winter initiated again this year an extensive program of intramural sports. A hike for freshman and Girls"-Boys' sports events were also on the agenda which culminated with the amual spring Sports Banquet. At this time, the presentation of blazers to ontstanding seniors and other awards was made.

DOT BOOK is well-known on campus as the everfaithful La Vie Collegienne editor and as president of Kappa Lambda Nu. In addition, Dot has been active as fnllback on the hockey tean and as manager for the basketball team.

W.A.A. and the basketball team have had a successful year under the capable leadership of JEANNE WINTER, president and captain respectively. "Miss Athlete" for the Class of 1957 is also an attendant in this year's May Court.

Senior Athletes

Hats off to four senior athletes! In recognition of their contribution to intramural as well as inter-collegiate sports at L.V.. these girls were presented with the highest awards of the W.A.A.-blue and white blazers.

Last year's ping pong leader, ARLENE REYNOLDS has contributed much in promoting W.A.A. activities. Arlene has served as halfback on the hockey field and as guard on the basketball court for four years. Together with Dot Book and Jo Young, Arlene was tri-captain of the hockey team.

JO YOUNG, outstanding as a wing on the hockey team, has played inter-collegiate basketball during her four years at L.V.C. Jo is also well-known in the Conservatory and as choir director for the S.C.A. Choir.
